

NEW The Aeolians
The Aeolians of Oakwood University
Jason Max Ferdinand, Conductor

This incredible group, on their self-titled first recording, melds the finest choral technique with true depth of emotion, creating a not-to-be-missed listening experience.

Recorded just days before COVID-19 abruptly altered the semester at Oakwood University and released in the midst of the pandemic, coupled with heightened racial tensions across the U.S. and beyond, The Aeolians seeks to bring hope to so many who are in need.

Conductor Jason Max Ferdinand writes, "You, our audience should be provoked, challenged, and leave with optimism—the type of optimism that Mahatma Gandhi and Martin Luther King possessed. We, the Aeolians, are no longer satisfied with solely displaying musical prowess. Coupling hope with mastery could be the combination that produces uncompromising societal transformation. We have programmed this music, hoping to appeal to the mind, but not leaving the heart untouched."

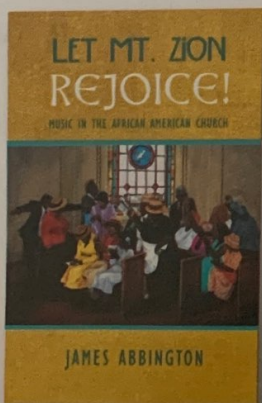

CONTENTS: Forever Music (Hayes) • Smile (arr. Dent) • Promised Land (Burton) • Pilgrim's Hymn (Dawson) • Examine Me (Dent) • My Soul Hath Found Refuge (Simpson-Currenton) • The Chariot Jubilee (Dett/ed. Ferdinand) • Gospel Train (arr. Burton) • We Remember Them (LaBarr) • We Shall Overcome (arr. Gibson) • Shout for Joy (Hailstork) • When I Lay Me Down to Sleep (Mulholland)

CD-1087 Compact Disc$16.95

NEW EDITION NOW AVAILABLE

Let Mt. Zion Rejoice:
Music in the African American Church

James Abbington

Let Mt. Zion Rejoice is an essential guide for those who are committed to musical excellence in worship. With this practical text, musician, teacher, and worship leader James Abbington leads the reader through the ins and outs of creating outstanding music ministry. From information, examples, and direction for developing the best music directors for your church to specific advice for choosing musical styles and repertoire based on your congregation's identity and worship goals, Abbington's expertise shines through, making this resource indispensable. Abbington also explores the possibilities related to planning worship and music around the Revised Common Lectionary.

G-6193 Paperback, Perfect-bound$19.95